

Tribute to The Rock

Thanksgiving Morning 2021

The trip to “The Rock” was just as scripted as the past events. Jim Burba and his friend Clay, Tara and Glen Blum, Tom Sherrick, Marshall Lobe (former member) and myself met for breakfast at Elly’s. We departed from there for the cruise to Jackson Park.

We drove past the former location which was fenced in for construction. Our next stop was the Federalist Statue for a photo op. A stop at the pro shop in the golf course was a little disappointing because it was closed. But no problem. We ventured to the group meeting at the south lot of the Museum of Science and Industry.

There were already an assortment of cars there upon our arrival. I counted six Corvettes including our three in attendance. There were an overabundance of Porsche's, Honda's and Acura's. Who would of thought?

After hanging out awhile we headed out for our drive up the North Shore. A quick stop at the Solder Field south lot for a rest was in order. Then we headed northbound on Lake Shore Drive to Sheridan Road for the final stretch of the cruise. We ended our adventure at the Tower Road Park in Winnetka, saying our goodbyes and a Happy Thanksgiving.

The weather cooperated with the temps around 44 degrees and a brisk wind . The only disappointment was that there was no Rock to see, but the tribute adapted to make it an enjoyable morning with what we had.
